

Show Series/Movie Review

Emma Comeau

Titanic

Streaming on Netflix

My favourite movie of all time is Titanic mainly because it is very emotional, and it drew me in right away. This movie follows two passengers aboard a ship's first voyage. These two passengers, from very different backgrounds, fall in love.

Tragedy strikes bringing the couple's future to a halt.

The acting in this film is phenomenal because the actors made me believe they were actually in each situation. I automatically connected to each character. Although this movie is very long, I never found myself losing interest.

Also, the emotion in this movie is outstanding. Everything about this movie is captivating and made me feel for everyone in the film. Although the movie was overall very deep, there were uplifting moments that lightened up the film. I really liked that it is a historical movie and based on a true story, but also brought in elements that intrigue a more current generation. I really enjoyed this movie and I think you would too.
