

The Revenge of the Sith

This movie is the origin of the of the dynamic Sith, Darth Vader and the second appearance of his master Sheev Palpatine.

This is an action-packed movie full of lightsaber battle's, dogfight's (an aircraft fight) and even some funny moments. It also has some crushing death's and an unforeseen plot twist. This movie takes place three years after the attack of the clones (the previous movie). As Anakin and Obi wan are fighting to save their beloved chancellor the iconic battle between Anakin and Dooku unveils. Anakin conquers Dooku and goes on to fight the spine-chilling four-armed General Grievous, but he slithers away. Amidst these fights, they're crashing into planet Coruscant with daunting fire snaking around them, but Anakin pulls through. As they drag across the rugged runway, Obi wan says his iconic phrase "Another happy landing". You'll have to watch this movie to see how the rest unfolds. All around this movie has become, in my opinion, the best of the prequel trilogy (the first three movies). Another benefit to this movie is that one of the most loathed characters in the entity of the series, Jar Jar Binks, only has one line in the movie. A must see!
