Mr. B's example

- Strong intro ---) Everyone is sick of COVID and having stay home! However, even though we need sports, activities and help in schools, some learning at home has its benefits. Researcher have found it is easy to use, gives you update live information, is good communication and allows students to use their personal talents and interests. Again, we are all sick of this situation. Maybe though, our province can have devices for all our work, text books and learning. To me it allows students to be more organized and independent. Finally, let's get to activities in person, but update to 2022 when do it.
